Washington, March 8.—"The inventor of a serum that is said to compel witnesses to tell the truth, has been deluging me with letters," Senator Walsh, chief prosecutor of the oil scandal, said today.

"He wants me to try his invention out upon witnesses before the oil committee. I think he should send a barrel of it."

MAY SOLVE STORY OF ATTEMPTED BRIBERY

Washington, March 8. — Hunting evidence to clear up a story of attempted bribery in which all the nation's natural resources formed the stake, and the presidency was the bribe offered, the senate oil committee will delve among the secrets of dead men.

Reports that offers of support were made in 1920 to General Leonard Wood and to friends of the late President Harding when both were candidates before the republican national convention, if they would agree to make Jake Hammon, Oklahoma oil man, secretary of the interior, will be sifted to the bottom.

Having started on this trail, the committee will also seek to learn whether Albert B. Fall's appointment was a result of any pre-election or pre-convention agreement.

Reports that it was, have been heard from time to time ever since the republican convention and Senator Hefflin, Alabama, said on the floor of the senate that the nation's oil reserves were bartered in the Blackstone hotel, Chicago, the night before the Chicago convention nominated Mr. Harding.

Before plunging into this inquiry, towards which the committee members said they had headed for some time, the committee will try to finish sifting of evidence of efforts of Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, to keep himself from being interviewed by the committee.

RESURRECTING JOSEPHUS DANIELS

Washington, March 8. — Leasing of naval oil reserves was made possible by a suggestion first made to congress by Josephus Daniels, navy secretary of the Wilson administration, Secretary of the Navy Denby told the house naval affairs committee today.

Daniels, in a letter to the house and senate naval affairs committee on March 5th, 1920, and March 29th, 1920, suggested legislation permitting the navy department to operate the naval reserves "directly or by contract, lease or otherwise," Denby said.

This suggestion was enacted into law in 1920, Denby said.

CURTIS DENIES HE IS "PRINCIPAL"

Washington, March 8. — Charles Curtis, republican whip and the first senator to go on the witness stand in the oil inquiry, denied emphatically before the committee today that he was the "principal" of the McLean messages.

Curtis reviewed three conversations he said he had with Ira E. Bennett, editor of Edward B. McLean's Washington Post.

None of these could have been construed to indicate that he had attempted to bring any pressure to bear

FRENCH FRANC CONTINUES ITS RECORD SLUMP

(By United Press)

London, March 8.—The French franc continued its record slump here today, reaching 117 francs 60 centimes to the pound sterling at 12:30 p. m.

Francs opened at 116.20 but declined under heavy selling.

The Belgian franc also slumped in sympathy, opening 132 to the pound.

WILD EXCITEMENT IN PARIS MARKET

Paris, March 8.—Despite the utmost efforts of the government to uphold the franc, it crashed to new lows as the money market opened here today.

At 10:20 a. m. dollars were quoted at 26 francs 80 centimes each and the pound sterling at 115 francs, both new low records for French paper money.

There was wild excitement as buyers and sellers scrambled in the market and quotations fluctuated rapidly.

to keep McLean from the witness stand, he added.

DAVIDSON SEES PRES. COOLIDGE

Washington, March 8.—James E. Davidson, republican national committeeman of Michigan, who has been prominently mentioned as a successor for Secretary of the Navy Denby, today held a conference at the White House with President Coolidge. This conference was held on the question of a successor to Denby whose resignation takes effect Monday.

"Mr. Davidson would be the best man in the United States for this position," Representative Woodruff, who accompanied Davidson, declared before going to the White House.

"His whole career in the ship building industry has trained him for such a position as secretary of the navy. He is absolutely clean and honest, and would have the complete backing of the people of Michigan."

DAUGHERTY BALKS ON GIVING INFORMATION

Washington, March 8.—Attorney General Daugherty today refused to give the house the name of the two members of congress involved in charges presented to a federal grand jury in Chicago. In a letter to Speaker Gillette, Daugherty said it was incompatible to public interest that the identity of these two men should be made public.

Such a move would tend to hamper the investigation of the department of justice.

Republican Leader Longworth, after Daugherty's letter was read to the house, moved that the whole matter be referred to the judiciary committee.

WASHINGTON POST EDITOR TESTIFIES

Washington, March 8. — Senator Curtis of Kansas, republican whip of the senate, advised President Coolidge to get rid of Attorney General Daugherty on the grounds of Daugherty's ill health, Ira Bennett, editor of the Washington Post, today testified before the senate oil committee.

"Curtis told me that the new president had asked him for advice about his new duties as president. Curtis said he advised him to get rid of a certain cabinet official who was Attorney General Daugherty. He said he told the president that Daugherty was in ill health, and that no one would blame him if he changed attorney general."

President Coolidge replied, according to Bennett's testimony, that he did not want Daugherty to resign, because he had several important cases pending.

Bennett's testimony was forced from him after Senator Curtis had taken the stand, and denied that he was the "principal" mentioned in the telegrams from Bennett to McLean in Palm Beach.

Forced to explain further following Curtis' testimony, Bennett said he had had two or three conversations with Curtis which the senator

CLAIM IT IS ONLY A DEVICE TO FOOL FARMER INTERESTS

WHEAT TARIFF INCREASE BY PRESIDENT ATTACKED BY FARMER-LABOR

LATTER SENATORS CLAIM VERY LITTLE CANADIAN WHEAT
SOLD HERE

(By United Press)

Washington, March 8.—The wheat tariff increase by the president is only a device to fool the farmers.

That was the declaration made today by farmer-labor senators, following President Coolidge's action late yesterday in adding 12c to the tariff. The increase raises the duty from 30 cents per bushel to 42 cents.

Very little Canadian wheat is sold in the United States, farmer-labor senators said today, although much Canadian wheat is milled in this country for export and hence pays no tariff.

President Coolidge increased the rate on flour from 78 cents per hundredweight to $1.04, while the duty on bran was reduced from 15 per cent ad valorem to 7 1/2 per cent.

The new rates become effective in thirty days. The president was able to change them under the flexible provisions of the McCumber tariff act.

Representative Sidney Anderson, Minnesota, who as chairman of the council on wheat, is largely responsible for the increase, declared he is sincere in his belief that the tariff should be high to protect against Canadian wheat.

The 30c per bushel tariff, he declared, does not adequately represent the difference in the cost of production between the United States farmers and those in Canada.

Most of the republican farm bloc senators stood with him.

UNCLE SAM'S NATURE'S MAIL BOX

Washington, D. C., March 7.—One of the unique settings of the mammoth Forest Lobby of the Glacier Park Hotel at the Gateway to Uncle Sam's Montana tourist playground is a mail box made of part of the trunk of a fir tree, three feet in diameter, with the bark on in its natural state.

Into this tourists drop their thousands of souvenir post cards sent to the folks back home. This is the only receptacle of this kind the postmaster general has any record of anywhere in Uncle Sam's domain.

"I was on the ground at the time," Proctor said, when interviewed today. "And I never heard of such an offer. I do not believe the story is true. This covers the subject so far as I am concerned."

Berlin, March 8. — Ambassador Houghton, of the United States, today visited Foreign Minister Stresemann and lodged a strong protest against the action of Deputy Kolb in insulting three American women in a compartment on a Cologne-Berlin express train. Stresemann promised an investigation would be made immediately. The conductor of the train is said to have ended the dispute between the deputy and the women, and to have rebuked the Americans saying that in Germany women do not contradict the men.

"CRIME TRUST" FLOURISHING IN CHICAGO

CHIEF SATELLITES ARE KNOWN

(By United Press)

Chicago, March 8.—Federal operatives here secured evidence of the existence of a "crime trust" here, it was made known today.

The names of the "master mind" and his chief satellites are known, and arrests are expected shortly.

The evidence was unearthed during the examination of suspects in the mysterious murder of Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy, members of a gang of bottleggers.

Federal officials believe the "crime trust" engineered the two million dollar union station robberies here a few years ago, perpetrated the $1,500,000 Werner warehouse robbery and the $900,000 Sibley warehouse liquor robbery. Other robberies of magnitude are attributed to the gang.

REPUBLICAN STATE MEET IN SESSION IN ST. PAUL TODAY

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION AS SCHEDULED, A. J. ROCKNE
IS CHAIRMAN

DEERWOOD MAN, C. W. POTTS, IS ON THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 8, 3 p. m.—These delegates at large were elected at the state convention by unanimous vote:

Fred A. Bickey, Minneapolis.
Senator Charles M. Orr, St. Paul.
A. O. Molreau, Luverne.
J. J. Rockne, Faribault.
John H. Mark, Wadena.
Mrs. P. L. Devoist, Duluth.

These with Col. Marsh, of Litchfield, make up the delegation of seven.

Auditorium, St. Paul, March 8.—Nothing but harmony was in sight in the republican state convention when it met today.

Preliminary organization went through as scheduled. A. J. Rockne, who has wielded the gavel over many conventions, was named temporary chairman.

Credential and resolution committees were appointed without contest, and the convention adjourned at 11:20 until 1 p. m.

If any attempt is made to bring the national committeemen fight to the floor of the convention it is believed Chairman Rockne will rule it out of order. If this plan of maintaining harmony does not succeed there will be a battle on the floor.

A fight between Fred Carpenter and W. J. Brooks in Hennepin county will not be permitted to strangle the harmony plan at this time, many delegates said. Should the fight get a good start, however, country delegates said any endorsement will have to be of a man from the county and not from the city. Colonel C. H. Marsh, Litchfield, campaign manager for President Coolidge in Minnesota, was approached by harmony seekers who hoped he would accept the national committee post if the convention decides to act on it. He withheld any statement, but it is certain he would be glad to accept.

The 27 delegates to the national convention will be picked. Colonel Marsh is expected to be one of the seven delegates at large picked this afternoon. He would be the most amenable compromise for committeemen.

F. E. Pulman, of Blue Earth, was appointed chairman of the resolutions committee which went into session at noon.

Among the resolution committee members were C. W. Potts of Crow Wing and Mrs. W. G. Petrabor of Aitkin, representing the sixth, and M. E. Field of Ottertail county and Mrs. I. Lovestrom of Kittson, the ninth.

Mrs. Ed M. LaFond, Little Falls, was named a member of the credentials committee from her district. John I. Levin, St. Paul, was named temporary chairman.

INDICTMENTS CHARGING CONSPIRACY

New York, March 8.—A federal grand jury returned indictments charging conspiracy to bribe against Gaston B. Means, Elmer W. J. Jarenke, his secretary, and Thomas Felder, a New York attorney, alleging an attempt to bribe Attorney General Daugherty and Colonel William Hayward, United States district attorney for New York, in connection with the so-called "Glass casket company fraud."

Means' name had been mentioned several times in connection with the senate investigation into oil leases in Washington.

He formerly was an agent of the department of justice.

Prisoners convicted in connection with the glass casket frauds informed officials that they raised $65,000 when they first learned action was intended against them and delivered the money to Means, Jarenke and Felder on assurance the action could be prevented.

HARD YEAR AHEAD FOR FORESTRY DEPT.

GROVER M. CONZET TAKES A
MOST PESSIMISTIC VIEW

Duluth, March 7.—A hard year is in sight for the forestry department. Grover M. Conzet, acting state forester, told the forestry board meeting here.

Seldom has there been so little moisture in the ground, and the lakes, rivers and streams are lower than in many years. These facts forecast a dry year when the forest fire menace will be at its height.

Members of the forestry board were asked to extend every effort to see that rangers, patrolmen, settlers and townspeople who assisted fighting forest fires last fall be paid as promised so that they will be willing to co-operate with the rangers this year.

Hundreds of claims for service have not been satisfied, the forestry board was informed.

RABBI HAS COPY OF BIBLE PRINTED IN 1518

Chester, Pa., March 6.—A Bible, believed to be the oldest in private possession in the United States, is owned by Dr. Harry Cohen, the rabbi of the Jewish Community of Chester.

The Bible is a large folio Schew Bible, published in Venice by Daniel Bomberg in 1518 and is the third of four volumes known as the first Rabbinical Bible.

The first complete edition of the English Bible was the version of Coverdale, printed in 1535, according to Dr. Cohen, who has been specializing on Bible research work. But before his time there had already appeared a number of translations in other languages.

The Latin Vulgate, supposed to have been the first book printed, was issued in 1453. A German version of the Bible appeared as early as 1466 and before 1522 there were no less than 14 printed editions of the Scriptures in High German and three in Low German.

The first Italian Bible was printed in 1471, Dutch in 1477, French in 1478 and Bohemian in 1488, according to Dr. Cohen. Luther's Bible did not appear as a whole until 1534.

DELEGATES

The sixth district republican congressional convention, in session at the court house in Brainerd yesterday afternoon, elected as delegates to the national republican convention at Cleveland, D. D. Schrader of Brainerd and C. D. Brower of Kimball. The alternates named were Mrs. E. J. Quinn of Brainerd and Mrs. Darius Stewart of St. Cloud. There were no instructed delegations, but the convention was in complete accord with and endorsed the policy and administration of President Coolidge.

Resolutions adopted deplored the death of Harding, expressed full confidence in President Coolidge and praised his administration; recognized the efficient services of Congressman Harold Knutson and recommended his re-election; approved all legislation for the betterment of the agricultural situation; expressed confidence that the debt owing the disabled veterans will be fully paid by the government; urged passage of the adjusted compensation bill for ex-service men along the lines laid down by the American Legion; endorsed Frank T. Hines, of the Veterans' Bureau, as a republican candidate for the vice-presidency because of his services in behalf of the disabled ex-service men.

The convention assembled 117 delegates and about forty alternates. Editor Hayes, of McGregor, was chairman of the convention, and Daimond I. Bouck, of Rice, was secretary.

The roads to Brainerd were fairly good and as a result many made the trip by automobile. When the gavel fell, and the convention was over, it quickly dissolved.

Six Civil War veterans from the local G. A. R. post were in attendance at the republican district convention to greet Hon. Harold Knutson, congressman from this district, who had planned to be present. The veterans were much disappointed in not finding the congressman at the convention.

(By United Press)
St. Paul, March 8.—Solid support for President Calvin Coolidge from Minnesota regular republicans was assured today.

Every congressional district convention yesterday named republican delegates favorable to the president. The delegates will be approved by the state republican convention here today.

INDICTMENTS CHARGING CONSPIRACY

New York, March 8.—A federal grand jury returned indictments charging conspiracy to bribe against Gaston B. Means, Elmer W. J. Jarenke, his secretary, and Thomas Felder, a New York attorney, alleging an attempt to bribe Attorney General Daugherty and Colonel William Hayward, United States district attorney for New York, in connection with the so-called "Glass casket company fraud."

Means' name had been mentioned several times in connection with the senate investigation into oil leases in Washington.

He formerly was an agent of the department of justice.

Prisoners convicted in connection with the glass casket frauds informed officials that they raised $65,000 when they first learned action was intended against them and delivered the money to Means, Jarenke and Felder on assurance the action could be prevented.

HARD YEAR AHEAD FOR FORESTRY DEPT.

GROVER M. CONZET TAKES A MOST PESSIMISTIC VIEW

Duluth, March 7.—A hard year is in sight for the forestry department, Grover M. Conzet, acting state forester, told the forestry board meeting here.

Seldom has there been so little moisture in the ground, and the lakes, rivers and streams are lower than in many years. These facts forecast a dry year when the forest fire menace will be at its height.

Members of the forestry board were asked to extend every effort to see that rangers, patrolmen, settlers and townspeople who assisted fighting forest fires last fall be paid as promised so that they will be willing to co-operate with the rangers this year.

Hundreds of claims for service have not been satisfied, the forestry board was informed.

RABBI HAS COPY OF BIBLE PRINTED IN 1518

Chester, Pa., March 6.—A Bible, believed to be the oldest in private possession in the United States, is owned by Dr. Harry Cohen, the rabbi of the Jewish Community of Chester.

The Bible is a large folio Schew Bible, published in Venice by Daniel Bomberg in 1518 and is the third of four volumes known as the first Rabbinical Bible.

The first complete edition of the English Bible was the version of Coverdale, printed in 1535, according to Dr. Cohen, who has been specializing in Bible research work. But before this time there had already appeared a number of translations in other languages.

The Latin Vulgate, supposed to have been the first book printed, was issued in 1453. A German version of the Bible appeared as early as 1466 and before 1522 there were no less than 14 printed editions of the Scriptures in High German and three in Low German.

The first Italian Bible was printed in 1471, Dutch in 1477, French in 1478 and Bohemian in 1483, according to Dr. Cohen. Luther's Bible did not appear as a whole until 1534.

175 DELEGATES AND ALTERNATES IN ATTENDANCE

EDITOR HAYES, OF McGREGOR PRESIDED, D. I. BOUCK WAS SECRETARY

D. D. SCHRADER AND C. D. BROWER, OF KIMBALL, ELECTED DELEGATES

The sixth district republican congressional convention, in session at the court house in Brainerd yesterday afternoon, elected as delegates to the national republican convention at Cleveland, D. D. Schrader of Brainerd and C. D. Brower of Kimball. The alternates named were Mrs. E. J. Quinn of Brainerd and Mrs. Darius Stewart of St. Cloud. There were no instructed delegations, but the convention was in complete accord with and endorsed the policy and administration of President Coolidge.

Resolutions adopted deplored the death of Harding, expressed full confidence in President Coolidge and praised his administration; recognized the efficient services of Congressman Harold Knutson and recommended his re-election; approved all legislation for the betterment of the agricultural situation; expressed confidence that the debt owing the disabled veterans will be fully paid by the government; urged passage of the adjusted compensation bill for ex-service men along the lines laid down by the American Legion; endorsed Frank T. Hines, of the Veterans' Bureau, as a republican candidate for the vice-presidency because of his services in behalf of the disabled ex-service men.

The convention assembled 117 delegates and about forty alternates. Editor Hayes, of McGregor, was chairman of the convention, and Daimond I. Bouck, of Rice, was secretary.

The roads to Brainerd were fairly good and as a result many made the trip by automobile. When the gavel fell, and the convention was over, it quickly dissolved.

Six Civil War veterans from the local G. A. R. post were in attendance at the republican district convention to greet Hon. Harold Knutson, congressman from this district, who had planned to be present. The veterans were much disappointed in not finding the congressman at the convention.

REPORTS OF BIG EXPLOSION IN WYOMING MINE

(By United Press)
Rock Springs, Wyo., March 8.—Unconfirmed reports reaching here today of a tremendous explosion in a coal mine at Castle Gate, Utah, said here were 176 men in the mine, but did not indicate whether any were killed.

173 Men Believed Trapped
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 8.—One hundred and seventy-three men are believed to be trapped in the Utah fuel mine No. 2 at Castle Gate, Utah, as the result of an explosion that occurred in the mine this morning, according to meagre reports received here.

The reports state that 173 men entered the mine this morning. No word has yet been received as to whether any of the men have been able to make their way to safety.

Advices said there were three distinct explosions caused by either dust or gas.

Officials of the company left here in a special relief train for the scene of the accident immediately after receiving word. From other camps of the company, fire fighting apparatus and rescue equipment was rushed to the scene. A corps of doctors was sent from here.

OTHER PEOPLES' OPINION

COMMUNICATION

To the Dispatch:

It has been strongly rumored around our fair city that the Catholics of the community are planning to take up the Northwestern Hospital, to use it for high school purposes.

We, the undersigned, who represent the Catholic people in all material and financial matters, wish to deny this most emphatically. We do not intend to buy or use the Northwestern property, and have never thought of doing so, and are not going to think of doing so.

Those who are interested in this propaganda no doubt wish to do one of three things: do injury to the Catholics, do an injustice to the Northwestern hospital or bring about discord.

We can answer for the first, we are vigilant. For either of the latter all that can be said is, such people are very foolish.

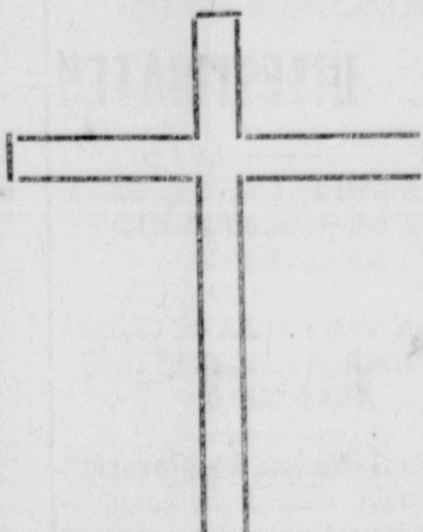

A word about the practice of Catholics. We do everything open and above board. Nothing is done in secret by us, as any one can find out who wishes to attend any or all of our gatherings and church services. The doors of the church are always open and every one in Brainerd is invited at all times to what we do, plan or teach.

There is no need of suspicion or under-handed dealing with us. It effects nothing but harm to the party who attempts it.

Again we repeat, you are invited to see all that we plan and do and this invitation is especially extended to the propagandist and those of a suspicious nature. If we are doing anything wrong, out with it publicly.

Lumbago Sufferer Says Health Is Permanent

Take the lumbago case of E. C. Lewis from the Chiropractic Research Bureau files. Three years ago he turned to chiropractic after eleven weeks of suffering, suffering so severe that he wore a corset because of a small measure of relief which its pressure gave him. Under chiropractic spinal adjustments he got well. That was three years ago. Today he writes: "It is now nearly three years since I was cured by chiropractic and I haven't had any trouble with my back since. This it seems to me is saying a great deal for permanent value of this new method, for it surely looks to me like a permanent cure."

March 12th, Nature Study Training class, Scout office, 4:30 P. M.

March 13th, Mapping Training class, Scout office, 4:30 P. M.

All second class scouts are required to take these classes before appearing before the Court of Honor examining board.

Drum and Bugle Corps Organizing

The Scout Drum and Bugle Corps is now assured, that is if we can get enough scouts who want to take up the study of drum and bugle, and we believe that we will have no trouble in getting them now that we have an opportunity to get the instruction.

The American Legion are now organizing a corps and have been kind enough to extend an invitation to the scouts to meet with them for weekly rehearsals. The buglers will meet on one night each week and the drummers on another, probably on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, in the Farmers Room at the Court House. Any scout wanting to take up the work should get in touch with Headquarters at once.

Troop No. 3 is now under the direction of James Templeton, and meet at the Lowell school on Thursday nights. A full troop committee has been secured and are taking an interest in the troop that spells success for the 24 boys now enrolled. They say they want an Efficiency Streamer for March. Well, we have one for them if they make the score of 85%—which means a worthwhile program.

Troop No. 2 will be quartered in the Washington school from this date, and will meet on Thursday nights with Axel Anderson as S. M., and Will Zakariasen as ass't.

Troop No. 2 now has 24 active members and brushed up so well in February that they scored 80.7 in the Efficiency inspection, just missing a Streamer by less than five points. We will have one ready for March, so go after it.

Troop "C" of Crosby was the first troop to earn an Efficiency Streamer, their February score being 85.7. Their troops were rather low on effort in February, but as March is Advancement month we look for several troops to put it over and be able to float a streamer from their flag staff. A special award will be made to the troop that earns three streamers in succession.

Brainerd troops wish to express their appreciation for the fine evening's entertainment put on by the Knights of Pythias on Wednesday evening. The program was fine, and the eats—well ask any scout that was there.

Their troops were rather low on effort in February, but as March is Advancement month we look for several troops to put it over and be able to float a streamer from their flag staff. A special award will be made to the troop that earns three streamers in succession.

Brainerd troops wish to express their appreciation for the fine evening's entertainment put on by the Knights of Pythias on Wednesday evening. The program was fine, and the eats—well ask any scout that was there.

SOME ASPECTS OF TAX AVOIDANCE

In an illuminating editorial on "Some Aspects of Tax Avoidance," appearing in the March issue, The Journal of Accountancy, published in New York, brings up these salient points worthy of consideration:

"Recognition of the truth of Secretary Mellon's statement that the high surtaxes are steadily becoming unproductive appears to be gradually dawning on congress. In some quarters the recognition is evidenced mainly in a display of indignation that men or even natural laws should fail to conform to the ideas of congress.

"Recently a senator characterized as 'little short of actual disloyalty to this republic' the truism repeated by the wealthy man, that wealth always seeks to avoid what it regards as excessive taxation.

"Now we can all agree that in an ideal republic every man would conduct his affairs and pay his taxes according to the intent of the law-making body, and no one would change his business conduct so as to reduce his taxes in ways not contemplated by the legislature.

"In this ideal republic, of course, the tax would be administered not upon technicalities and nice interpretations of the letter of the law, but upon broad consideration of equity and regard for its spirit.

"And above all the legislature would frame the law with an eye single to the apportionment of the inevitable burden among the citizens of the republic in the most equitable way that could be conceived.

"So long, however, as the guiding principle in the allocation of the tax burden is political advantage and the assignment (in the first instance, at any rate) of the maximum burden to the minimum number of voters; so long, too, as the rule governing court decisions is that quoted by the supreme court recently from an English decision—'If the person sought to be taxed comes within the letter of the law, he must be taxed, however great the hardship may appear to the judicial mind to be. On the other hand, if the crown, seeking to recover the tax, cannot bring the subject within the letter of the law, the subject is free, however apparently within the spirit of the law the case might otherwise appear to be'—so long as these conditions continue, is it not a little naive for any one to expect those at whom the measures are aimed to make no move either to defend themselves or to escape from the impost?

"The more serious aspect of the situation is that the next phase is apt to be an ill-considered attempt to assert the dignity and power of congress. If one law fails to produce the result the legislator desires yet another more drastic be enacted."

BRAINERD CHORAL SOCIETY

THE DISPATCH calls attention to Monday evening's appearance of the Brainerd Choral society at Iron Exchange hall, where the organization will give a concert. Besides the choral society numbers there will be solos by local talent. Roy Theodore Brown, the conductor, has been untiring in his efforts to form an organization which will be a credit to the city. There is room for a choral society in the musical activities of our city and it is hoped this public appearance will serve to stimulate interest in the musical life of Brainerd.

Even after a choral society is formed and gives every promise of success, comes the ceaseless efforts of the conductor to get 100 per cent attendance at rehearsals. Continual practice is necessary. Just as a basketball quint or a baseball team functions best when it gets teamwork to high efficiency, so does a choral society when every member is alert, constant at rehearsals, studious and ambitious for the whole group to succeed.

COOLIDGE MESSAGES

MESSAGES of President Coolidge, being two which were wired E. B. McLean at Palm Beach, Florida, were read into the record of the senate oil investigation. The president promptly made an explanation of the same, that one referred to District of Columbia matters and the other to a senate resolution calling for the resignation of Denby as secretary of the navy.

The president's telegrams precipitated a debate and a partisan tinge was given when Senator Pat Harrison, democrat of Mississippi, objected to statements made by the president's secretary, claiming the president himself should make a statement.

INCOME TAX STATEMENTS

INCOME tax statements must be made shortly or they cannot arrive at headquarters in time to avoid penalties. The last day for filing at headquarters is March 15th, in other words, the statement must be in the St. Paul office before midnight of March 15th. There is a buzz of excitement, much sharpening of pencils and studying of bank books and check accounts as the last minute men are getting out their statements. There is always an eleventh-hour rush in tax matters, just as we suppose there will be an eleventh-hour crowd anxious to reach the mark should Gabriel blow his trumpet.

EUROPE'S MAN-KILLING POWER

THE National Republican makes this comment on increased armaments in Europe: "Europe's man-killing power today is twice as great as that of the whole civilized world 11 years ago. The League of Nations forbids military alliances, yet Europe is notoriously a network of these war breeding combinations. Yet we are told that the League of Nations points the way to peace and that all Europe wants America's moral guidance."

BEER and other beverages of a 2.75 per cent liquor content are finding champions in 40 congressmen, who promise to introduce bills to that effect soon. Passage of such legislation, as claimed by some, may result in the paradox of a drinker being illegally drunk with a legal beverage.

THE Candler family of Atlanta, Georgia, certainly is busy engaging legal talent. The father only recently was the figure in a suit of large amount when a son follows as defendant in a $100,000 case.

PRESIDENT NOT SUCH A KEEN BOXING FAN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, March 8.—Jack Dempsey had the privilege on Washington's birthday of meeting President Coolidge. The heavyweight champion felt flattered all the more because the president had made no social engagements, and his consent to meet the champion assumed the nature of a special concession to a celebrity.

Dempsey was enthused about the president and he told his friends later that he was surprised to learn, during their conversation, that the president was a real boxing fan.

This was considered a most favorable indication of the elevation of boxing, because, since the time of President Roosevelt, there has been no one in the White House who could square off or who knew how it was done.

Perhaps President Coolidge is a great boxing fan, but one remark he made during the conversation would indicate that if he is a great fan, he has not had the time to keep himself posted on the current event of the ring.

While they were at the White House, Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, was telling the president that Dempsey had enough power in his arm to knock an opponent out with a punch that traveled not more than three inches, and the President remarked, in words to the effect that he had no desire to be struck with such a punch.

Kearns went on to say that while Dempsey was a great offensive fighter, he was not invulnerable to attack, and he explained how Firpo, the South American giant, had knocked Dempsey clear out of the ring with a punch.

To which the president replied:

"Is that so? When did that happen?"

Perhaps it is well that Kearns did not go far enough into the details as to tell how much Dempsey got for going out of the ring and coming back in and then walking out.

Dempsey is just as proud of the social rating that he has established as he is of the name that he has made for himself in the ring. It is quite probable that when Dempsey's title is gone, he will cherish the memory of meeting with President Coolidge, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the late Lord Northcliffe and other prominent men, more than he will recall the arguments advanced by his friends that he was the greatest of all the heavyweight champions.

Dempsey has done more to earn the respect of the public for the heavyweight champion than any other title holder. Jim Corbett, of course, was the first one who brought a real atmosphere of decency to the ring, but it must be remembered that the game fell almost to its lowest depths after Corbett's time, and it was up to Dempsey to pull it up out of the mud again and give it a good bath for public presentation.

Dempsey is now admitted to the best hotels in the country, hotels that not so many years ago would have called the police if they had seen a fighter in the next block.

Responsible citizens are not ashamed to meet Dempsey or have it known that they had met the heavyweight champion.

Dempsey has become an asset to the whole fight business. Jack Johnson nearly ruined it, and Jess Willard made no effort to get it back in the respect of the public.

MIAMI REGATTA BRINGS SPEED BOATS AND FAST PLANES

(By United Press)

Miami, Fla., March 8.—The mid-winter regatta of the Yachtsman Association of America and of the American Power Boat Association started here today. There are about five times as many entries as ever before in the history of the regatta.

Commodore A. A. Schantz, of the Detroit Yacht club, is chairman of the racing committee. As commodore of the Detroit Yacht club, known as the wealthiest of its kind in the world, Commodore Schantz is generally looked upon by the motor racing world as an expert. In conjunction with the annual motor boat regatta will be held the national aeronautic meet.

The National Aeronautic Association, which is the recognized official flying club of the United States, awarded the Curtiss Marine trophy race to Miami. The race carried with it a first prize of $1,000, a second prize of $300, and a third prize of $200.

The distance of this race is 200 kilometers, or 124.27 miles. Only planes and flying boats having an air speed greater than 80 miles an hour are eligible. There are to be four major events, as well as the motor boat preliminary events.

"THE GYPSY ROVER"

Brainerd High School to Present Unusual Musical Play in Near Future

This year the Brainerd high school is putting on an operetta entitled "The Gypsy Rover," a most interesting and unusual musical play with far more plot and interesting lines than usually falls to the lot of a musical piece.

Rather it should be called a musical comedy. There are tuneful songs, pretty costumes and a mixed chorus of girls and boys. All are working hard under the direction of Miss Marion Opsahl to make "The Gypsy Rover" a big success.

More concerning this operetta will be published at a later date.

REV. GEO. WALENTA DIED

Was Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, on Leave of Absence, Passed Away in Maine

Rev. George John Walenta, rector on leave of absence from St. Paul's Episcopal parish of this city, passed away Friday morning, at his home at South China, Kennebec county, Maine, after a long illness. Rev. Walenta's health failed some years ago, when he was rector of St. Simeon's, a large parish in Philadelphia, but he partially recovered; however, he was in delicate health when he came to Brainerd in the autumn of 1922, but it was thought that the change from the east to the healthful climate of northern Minnesota, might prove of benefit.

His service to this community was much appreciated, both by the members of St. Paul's church, and by all others with whom he came in contact, and he had won a place in the hearts of all who knew him; but the work proved too strenuous, and it was with a sense of sympathy and hopefulness that he was last summer granted a year's leave of absence, in the hope that such a rest, might still result in a restoration to his usual health and strength.

For some time past letters from his family have prepared the way for the telegram received this morning, announcing his death. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Ruth and Madeline.

The Dispatch joins St. Paul's parish and the whole community in sympathy to the bereaved family.

BRAINERD CHORAL SOCIETY REHEARSAL

Organization Will Have Its Initial Appearance on Monday Evening at Iron Exchange Hall

ASSISTED BY LOCAL TALENT

Roy Theodore Brown, The Conductor, Will Sing Two Groups of Songs—Program Published Soon

To all lovers of good music the Brainerd Choral society extends an invitation to hear it in its initial appearance on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock, in the Iron Exchange hall on the third floor of the Iron Exchange building. The society will be assisted by such local artists as Mrs. Mal Clark, Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg, Mrs. E. J. Egan, and Alfred Mraz. Roy Theodore Brown, the conductor, will sing two groups of songs, one of which will be the most pretentious ever attempted by any tenor. The program in full will be published later.

Those who are interested in seeing a progressive and really productive choral society permanently established in Brainerd are especially invited to be present at Monday evening's concert. Another class the society is anxious to reach is composed of Brainerd's singers who have been reluctant to affiliate themselves with the present organization. It is anticipated that all such will feel very kindly indeed toward the society once they have heard what it is accomplishing.

Be it known to all members of the chorus that no excuse will serve to appease the wrath of Mr. Brown should a single member fail to be in his or her place at the rehearsal. It takes the cooperative effort of each member of any organization to make it a success. Especially is that true of a group of singers. In other words a perfect chorus approaches perfect harmony.

GOOD WEATHER FOR SUNDAY

Many Motorists Planning Trips In Vicinity Interests in Condition of Roads

ALL HIGHWAYS PASSABLE

State Maintenance Men Are Busy Whenever the Weather Permits

With prospects of good weather on Sunday, many motorists will be planning trips for that day, and will be interested in knowing the condition of the various highways running out of Brainerd.

Reports from the state highway department's local office, are to the effect that trunk highways in the Brainerd vicinity are in fair condition, all being passable.

The state maintenance men are busy whenever the weather permits, which has been four or five hours nearly every afternoon, and this work on all trunk highways in this district has done much to improve the roads. It also helps materially in putting them in shape when the frost comes out of the roads.

Roads under the supervision of County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy are reported as being in practically the same condition generally as the trunk highways. The principal roads throughout the county are passable and are being traveled regularly.

The county forces are also doing maintenance work, and have done dragging the state road from Crosby north to the Mississippi river bridge, on the Crosby-Emily road.

Possibly the poorest state road in the county is the one from Deerwood to Bay Lake. Because of the clay that has been put on this road without the top dressing of gravel, the surface is inclined to be slippery during the day when the temperature is above freezing, and care should be used if motorists are planning to use this road.

REV. GEO. WALENTA DIED

Was Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, on Leave of Absence, Passed Away in Maine

Rev. George John Walenta, rector on leave of absence from St. Paul's Episcopal parish of this city, passed away Friday morning, at his home at South China, Kenebec county, Maine, after a long illness. Rev. Walenta's health failed some years ago, when he was rector of St. Simon's, a large parish in Philadelphia, but he partially recovered; however, he was in delicate health when he came to Brainerd in the autumn of 1922, but it was thought that the change from the east to the healthful climate of northern Minnesota, might prove of benefit.

His service to this community was much appreciated, both by the members of St. Paul's church, and by all others with whom he came in contact, and he had won a place in the hearts of all who knew him; but the work proved too strenuous, and it was with a sense of sympathy and hopefulness that he was last summer granted a year's leave of absence, in the hope that such a rest, might still result in a restoration to his usual health and strength.

For some time past letters from his family have prepared the way for the telegram received this morning, announcing his death. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Ruth and Madeline.

The Dispatch joins St. Paul's parish and the whole community in sympathy to the bereaved family.

FLOOR PLAN

THE REIGATE

A Common Sense House for the Average Family.

Economy in home planning need not imply the necessity for sacrifice of convenience or beauty; in fact the reverse is very often true, particularly with the smaller, medium priced home. Such plans must meet certain family requirements and at the same time come within a fixed appropriation. The result, if a competent architect has been employed, is compact arrangement and simple design which make for convenience and good taste. The man who invests in such a home is richer, not only in dollars and cents, but greater still—in the restfulness which simplicity of design assures. Particularly in his mind at rest if concrete construction and cement-asbestos shingle have been used to make the house fire-safe and easy to maintain. Portland cement stucco on concrete masonry is permanent, free from deterioration and does not require repainting. A 35-foot lot will not only accommodate this house but will allow room on one side for a driveway. The narrow plan of the Reigate has not developed a monotonous series of rooms but rather an interesting grouping with ample space for furniture. From four to six persons could be taken care of without crowding. The exterior has been enlivened here and there with simple effective ornamentation. Across the front of the house we have a real family-sized front porch.

Three large windows on the front and one at either side of the fireplace make the living room bright and cheery even on the darkest days. The fireplace, besides the hospitable touch which it gives to the room, is a money-saving feature obviating the use of the furnace on mild winter days. Passing through the dining room we enter a small hall connecting the bath and two of the bedrooms. The back bedroom and the linen closet are entered from the kitchen. A good old-fashioned pantry with lots of shelves and space for pots and pans, flour and sugar bins is just off the kitchen. Here, too, is space for the refrigerator although this could be put in the back entry where stairs lead to the cellar. A full cellar is provided and is kept dry and vermin-proof by concrete walls and floor.

did not mention. He at first declined to reveal them on the grounds that "he did not wish to spread scandal" but when ordered to tell, he said he first confronted Curtis, on instructions from McLean, to get facts how the Washington Post should handle the oil scandal in its columns. Then he said Curtis brought up the question of Daugherty's resignation. Curtis thereupon took the stand again, and explained he told Mr. Coolidge he would have to look for a new attorney general, because Mr. Daugherty was ill, but did not tell the president he ought to force Daugherty to quit.

Washington, March 8.—Passage of the McKenize bill, providing for acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals without vital amendments, was indicated today, when the farm bloc defeated an amendment designed to force Ford to pay all expenses for maintenance and operation of dam number two instead of paying the government $35,000 a year.

A vote on the Burton amendment was 82 to 48. Many republicans joined the democrats in defeating the amendment.

Washington, March 8.—The outstanding mystery, who is the "principal" mentioned in the telegrams exchanged between Edward B. McLean in Palm Beach and his agents in Washington during the early stages of the oil probe—remains as much a mystery as ever following hearings of the senate committee today.

Senator Curtis, republican whip, testified under oath that much of the testimony given by Ira E. Bennett, editor of McLean's Washington Post, was either false or misleading, and that Bennett sought to refresh the senator's memory of conversations which the latter said never occurred.

With the maze of conflicting testimony, seeking to show he could not be the "principal," and Bennett endeavoring to demonstrate why Curtis was the "principal," the question of who really is the "principal" remains unproven in the minds of the committee.

FLOOR PLAN

THE REIGATE

A Common Sense House for the Average Family.

Economy in home planning need not imply the necessity for sacrifice of convenience or beauty; in fact the reverse is very often true, particularly with the smaller, medium priced home. Such plans must meet certain family requirements and at the same time come within a fixed appropriation. The result, if a competent architect has been employed, is compact arrangement and simple design which make for convenience and good taste. The man who invests in such a home is richer, not only in dollars and cents, but greater still—in the restfulness which simplicity of design assures. Particularly is his mind at rest if concrete construction and cement-asbestos shingle have been used to make the house fire-safe and easy to maintain. Portland cement stucco on concrete masonry is permanent, free from deterioration and does not require repainting.

A 35-foot lot will not only accommodate this house but will allow room on one side for a driveway. The narrow plan of the Reigate has not developed a monotonous series of rooms but rather an interesting grouping with ample space for furniture. From four to six persons could be taken care of without crowding. The exterior has been enlivened here and there with simple effective ornamentation. Across the front of the house we have a real family-sized front porch.

Three large windows on the front and one at either side of the fireplace make the living room bright and cheery even on the darkest days. The fireplace, besides the hospitable touch which it gives to the room, is a money-saving feature obviating the use of the furnace on mild winter days. Passing through the dining room we enter a small hall connecting the bath and two of the bedrooms. The back bedroom and the linen closet are entered from the kitchen.

A good old-fashioned pantry with lots of shelves and space for pots and pans, flour and sugar bins is just off the kitchen. Here, too, is space for the refrigerator although this could be put in the back entry where stairs lead to the cellar. A full cellar is provided and is kept dry and vermin-proof by concrete walls and floor.

MAY NEED A BARREL OF SERUM, SAYS WALSH

did not mention. He at first declined to reveal them on the grounds that "he did not wish to spread scandal" but when ordered to tell, he said he first confronted Curtis, on instructions from McLean, to get facts how the Washington Post should handle the oil scandal in its columns. Then he said Curtis brought up the question of Daugherty's resignation.

Curtis thereupon took the stand again, and explained he told Mr. Coolidge he would have to look for a new attorney general, because Mr. Daugherty was ill, but did not tell the president he ought to force Daugherty to quit.

Washington, March 8.—Passage of the McKenzie bill, providing for acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals without vital amendments, was indicated today, when the farm bloc defeated an amendment designed to force Ford to pay all expenses for maintenance and operation of dam number two instead of paying the government $35,000 a year.

A vote on the Burton amendment was 52 to 48. Many republicans joined the democrats in defeating the amendment.

Washington, March 8.—The out-staffing mystery, who is the "principal" mentioned in the telegrams exchanged between Edward B. McLean in Palm Beach and his agents in Washington during the early stages of the oil probe—remains as much a mystery as ever following hearings of the senate committee today.

Senator Curtis, republican whip, testified under oath that much of the testimony given by Ira E. Bennett, editor of McLean's Washington Post, was either false or misleading, and that Bennett sought to refresh the senator's memory of conversations which the latter said never occurred.

With the maze of conflicting testimony, seeking to show he could not be the "principal," and Bennett endeavoring to demonstrate why Curtis was the "principal," the question of who really is the "principal" remains unproven in the minds of the committee.

Washington, March 8. — A cash payment and a paid up insurance soldier bonus policy was introduced in the house today.

The committee approved a bonus plan providing a payment of $50 cash and a paid up life insurance policy to veterans.

A bitter dispute between the republicans arose over the proposal to put through a special resolution giving a 25 per cent reduction in personal income taxes in 1923.
